Cambodia Will Talk On Keeping Out Viet Cong

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is expected to accept promptly Prince Norodom Sihanouk's indirect suggestion of U.S.-Cambodian talks over the issue of Communist Vietnamese use of Cambodia as a sanctuary.

Cambodia's chief of state, describing his country as "caught between the hammer and the anvil," said he would welcome an envoy from the President to discuss the situation. Speedy dispatch of such a U.S. spokesman appeared likely.

Sihanouk's statements were published today in a copyrighted Washington Post story based on his replies Thursday to questions posed by Post correspondent Stanley Karnow.

In response to other questions put by Karnow, in a cable, Sihanouk said he would not intervene militarily to stop U.S. troops from entering certain sections of Cambodia in so-called hot pursuit of North Vietnamese or Viet Cong forces.

U.S. officials were reported surprised and pleased with this statement, which came only a week after the prince spurned a U.S. bid for joint efforts to stop Vietnamese Communist use of neighboring Cambodia as a sanctuary.

At that time, Sihanouk denounced the United States and all but branded it an aggressor in Southeast Asia.

Speculation was Johnson most likely would send Averell Harriman, U.S. ambassador-at-large, to talk with Sihanouk. In the interview, Sihanouk made clear he also would welcome Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, whom he described as "just and courageous man."

But he said if large Communist units are in fact entering Cambodia "and if limited combat breaks out between American and Vietnamese forces, both illegally in Cambodia, it goes without saying that we would not intervene militarily."

While stating he wouldn't send Cambodian forces against troops crossing his border in hot pursuit actions, Sihanouk added:

"However, if serious incursions or bombings are committed against our border regions inhabited by Cambodians, I declare very clearly that we would not hesitate to strike back as strongly as possible with aircraft, tanks and infantry."

And in the case of aggression, he said, Cambodia would demand increased military aid from Red China and the Soviet Union "in particular."

He said Cambodia would not tolerate the crossing of its borders by troops from South Vietnam, which he called "our traditional expansionist enemy."

He said he had learned the "Portagon is considering the employment of the Saigon army for eventual incursions into our country."

Despite Sihanouk's expressed doubts, U.S. officials believe Communist troops by the thousands make periodic use of Cambodia as a sanctuary.

War Spread Fears May Bring Asian Conference

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

A threat of big-power conflict in Southeast Asia seems to be growing, and it gets more serious it could bring about a new international conference.

Soviet and Red Chinese statements predict escalation of the Vietnam war through U.S. invasion of Laos and Cambodia, as if reflecting fear this will happen. The United States deplores use of Cambodia by the Viet Cong as sanctuary from American pursuit. There are reports of a Communist buildup and increased activity in Laos.

All this is familiar and ominous.

The imminence of a big-power showdown had much to do with the convocation of an international conference five years ago on the Laotian situation. It could happen again, perhaps this time including talks on the Vietnam struggle.

The record indicates that the Laotian situation in the early 60s was so dangerous that a conference was the only safe way out. The alternative might have been a confrontation and even war among the big powers. A similar situation seems to be building up now.

Though overshadowed by the magnitude of the Vietnam war to its east, Laos poses a smoldering danger of escalation. Students of Southeast Asian affairs speculate that Laos is so important that if there had been no war in Vietnam there surely would have been one in the neighbor state, possibly more perilous from the standpoint of international complications.

Laos is a gateway to Burma and Thailand and a potential key to mastery of all Southeast Asia.

In 1960, said a later British parliamentary review of Laos,

Strafing Error Kills 4; 34 Hit

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines swept today through two fortified villages on coastal lowlands 20 miles south of Da Nang, where a helicopter assault had led them into a heavy firefight with about 500 Communist troops.

Reports from the field said enemy resistance was light, a marked departure from the rain of fire that marked the Leathernecks' landing in a muddy rice paddy there Thursday.

These accounts said 17 Marines and 37 of the enemy were killed that day. Thirty Marines were wounded.

American authorities announced two U.S. Air Force Canberra bombers mistakenly strafed a company of South Vietnamese irregulars locked in a jungle fight with Viet Cong Thursday, killing 4 and wounding 32 and 2 American advisers.

U.S. Command said the South Vietnamese force was battling a Viet Cong force in the jungled coastlands of Binh Thuan Province about 125 miles northeast of Saigon.

The B57 Canberras were called in to give supporting fire and dipped down with blazing 30mm cannon and 50-caliber machine guns. The ground action against the Viet Cong apparently was broken off as the shattered South Vietnamese unit, called a civilian irregular defense group, pulled back with its casualties.

The strafing run took place in midafternoon and the weather was relatively clear, the U.S. Command said. An investigation was ordered by the commander of the U.S. 7th Air Force Gen. William Momyer and Air Force officers were sent to the scene.

The mistaken strafing came on a day of scattered ground actions up and down the nation. They ranged from pitched battles in the coastal lowlands around Da Nang to clashes in the Mekong Delta where U.S. Navy patrol boats fought Viet Cong infantrymen.

One Communist gunner in the delta put a small patrol boat out of action with a recoilless rifle shot that wounded all five American crewmen. Helicopters swept in to strafe the Viet Cong position, and an accompanying patrol boat pulled the stricken craft out of the battle 45 miles southwest of Saigon.

In the big delta city of My Tho about 40 miles below Saigon, Viet Cong mortarmen lobbed a barrage of 42 rounds into the compound of the provincial hospital, wounding 17 civilians and an unannounced number of South Vietnamese soldiers.

Sharp ground actions involved both South Vietnamese and American units.

The heaviest engagement Thursday pitted a force of more than 1,000 South Vietnamese against a Communist battalion in Quang Nam Province, the sensitive sector surrounding the big base of Da Nang. The South Vietnamese reported killing 52 Red troops, raising to more than 375 the number of enemy dead claimed by the allies in three days of fighting in the coastal lowlands since the end of the brief Christmas truce.

Dr. Barnard At Johnson Ranch

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson takes time out from his work on budget and program planning today to meet with Dr. Christian Barnard, the South African heart transplant surgeon.

Dr. Barnard said he asked to meet the President while on his visit to this country. "I think it's important to see the President of the United States. I admire him. I think he's a great man," he said.

So Dr. Barnard and his wife, Louwte, got an appointment at the LBJ ranch, where both President and Mrs. Johnson will greet them.

The Texas White House said it was "an informal, courtesy call" and indicated there would be no news coverage at the ranch, 75 miles north of here.

The 44-year-old doctor arrived in San Antonio Thursday night. When reporters at the airport asked if he was going to examine the President's heart, Dr. Barnard looked a bit astonished and exclaimed, "No, No."

Johnson has been a heart patient, having suffered a heart attack in 1955 when he was Senate majority leader. As President, he has promoted the cause of heart, cancer and medical research.

The visiting doctor, who came to the United States Saturday for personal appearances, has been discussing his pioneering heart transplant with fellow doctors and with the press.

Drivers Reject Newspaper Bid

DETROIT (AP) — Chances for an early settlement of Detroit's 45-day-old newspaper strike appeared dimmer today after striking Detroit News drivers and drivers for the closed down Free Press rejected a proposed three-year contract.

"If we don't get a contract by close to Feb. 1," Teamsters Local 372 President Clare O'Connor said after the votes were tallied at four-to-one against the offer, "we may be out until spring."

Representatives of the Michigan Labor Mediation Board, who supervised the balloting Wednesday and Thursday, said the total vote was 685 to 133 against the proposal.

"We are not surprised at the outcome," the publishers said in a joint statement. "An all-out campaign by strike leaders and unwarranted interference in the Teamster election by other union heads torpedoed the settlement even before the vote."

The publishers called the election "a flagrant violation of the union's pledge to state mediators to permit a free choice by the members without electioneering for or against the proposal."

"Our position was strictly neutral," O'Connor told newsmen. The 14-union Detroit Newspaper Trades Council, however, issued a strong statement against the contract. The Teamsters are members of the council.

Eight Children Uninjured As Gas Blast Ruins Home

LEADVILLE, Colo. (AP) — Eight children escaped without a scratch and Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Potter suffered minor injuries when an explosion lifted the roof off their home and shattered windows in neighboring houses.

Fire Chief Joe Plute said the thermostat on a gas hot water heater failed. The explosion Thursday blew the top of the water tank through the roof.

The Potters and their children, age 4 to 13, awoke under debris more than three feet deep. Potter was treated for cuts and bruises. His wife was hospitalized with chest bruises and possible broken toes.

Pellston's -16, Nation's Low

By The Associated Press

Michigan shivered in the icy grip of a cold wave today as the mercury plunged to sub-zero readings in some areas.

Generally cloudy skies brought a few light snow flurries in scattered sections of the state, but nearly ideal driving conditions prevailed throughout.

The State Highway Commission said all highways were clear and dry in most areas, with a few exceptions.

In the eastern half of the Upper Peninsula, highways were reported clear with some ice in spots. In the west, snow fell in Houghton and Hancock counties.

The coldest spot in the nation overnight was Pellston, where the temperature plunged to 16 degrees below zero. Below zero readings also were reported in Houghton Lake and Traverse City.

Seeks To Outlaw No-Return Bottles

LANSING (AP) — A state senator has started a petition drive asking for a vote in the 1968 general election on a proposal to outlaw nonreturnable bottles in Michigan.

Sen. Roger Craig, D-Deerborn Heights, said he will try to collect 200,000 signatures on petitions to put the issue on the ballot.

Craig said the expense of picking up the no-deposit soft drink and beer bottles was $717,000 a year to the State Highway Department alone.

The bottles, Craig said, are a safety hazard as well as a litter nuisance.

GM Boosts Price On Most Models By $22

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers officials today tallied the votes on a new three-year contract with General Motors. Approval by the 380,000 UAW members employed at the giant auto maker was expected.

Meanwhile, General Motors became the first U.S. auto maker Thursday to announce an auto price increase — $22 on most models — to cover the cost of front — seat shoulder harnesses, now required by federal law.

UAW President Walter Reuther has predicted approval of the new national settlement at GM, which parallels agreements reached earlier at Ford and Chrysler.

Early returns in the balloting indicated the pact was being ratified by a margin of five to one, with 83 per cent of the production workers voting for the contract as compared to 79 per cent of the skilled tradesmen.

Craftsmen and production workers vote separately. A majority "no" vote by the 55,000 skilled workers would veto the contract.

The agreement provides for an average increase of $1 an hour in wages and fringe benefits over the three-year span of the contract. Workers were receiving an average of $4.70 an hour.

The increases in the contract will boost labor costs for the company about 6 per cent a year.

In announcing the auto price increase, General Motors said it was adding the cost of the shoulder harnesses — now optional equipment — to the list price of a car.

It said the harnesses, required as standard equipment on new cars starting Monday, cost $22 in most models, but $25 in the Buick Electra and Riviera and Oldsmobile 98 and $30 in the Cadillac.

At the same time, company spokesmen declined to say whether GM is planning a second general price increase to cover the new increases in steel and labor costs.

Spokesmen for Ford and Chrysler declined comment on any possible price increase.

Their firms had in mind as a result of making shoulder harnesses mandatory.

A spokesman for American Motors said the base price of the firm's car would remain unchanged, but shoulder harnesses will be listed as "mandatory options" selling for $23.20.

Flu Is Reported From 24 States

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The National Communicable Disease Center reports outbreaks of Asian Flu and similar respiratory infections in 24 states and the District of Columbia but says the mortality rate does not appear to be unusually higher.

New York City health officials said the death rate there is higher than usual. There were 100 such deaths for the week ending Dec. 22, the New York officials said, and the tolerance zone for deaths from influenza and pneumonia for the week in the state is 88.

It is difficult, health officials say, to measure the seriousness of the outbreaks throughout the nation because schools are closed during the holidays. Schools usually are the best means of determining the rate of absenteeism.

Relatively Mild

The virus appears to be relatively mild in most instances, but health officials say this creates a problem.

"Most of the cases are so mild that people simply won't go to bed," said Dr. John E. McCroan of the Georgia Health Department. "They are walking around, spreading the bug around."

Humphrey Off To Tour Africa

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey flew off today on a 13-day visit to Africa promising to "renew President Johnson's commitment to the ultimate defeat in Africa as well as in our own country of poverty, ignorance, malnutrition and disease."

The vice president, in a speech just before his takeoff from Andrews Air Force Base outside Washington, said he hoped to return from his nine-nation tour with a better understanding of Africa and to leave behind "a better understanding of America."

Humphrey, accompanied by his wife is due to return Jan. 10.

The vice president will head the American delegation at the inauguration of President William Tubman of Liberia Jan. 1 and 2. Other members of the inaugural delegation traveling with Humphrey are Justice Thurgood Marshall of the Supreme Court and Edgar Bronfman, New York business executive.

"We intend to make clear America's commitment in Africa as in our own country to peaceful development and human opportunity," Humphrey said in his statement.

Humphrey starts the tour in Abidjan, capital of the Ivory Coast. In addition to the Ivory Coast and Liberia, the vice president will visit Ghana, Congo, Zambia, Ethiopia, Somali, Kenya and Tunisia.

Humphrey aides have declined to say what if any commitments the vice president will make on his trip.

However, the Ivory Coast is interested in a multimillion-dollar loan to help build a hydroelectric project on the Bandama Blanc River.

The Cason Callaway of Pittsburgh pitted a force of more than 1,000 South Vietnamese against a Communist battalion in Quang Nam Province, the sensitive sector surrounding the big base of Da Nang. U.S. Land Policy Study Gets More Time, Money

The Public Land Law Review Commission has been granted an 18-month extension beyond its original reporting date of Dec. 31, 1968 and an increase of $3.3 million over its former appropriation limitation to complete its full study program.

Legislation granting the extension—an amendment to the Act of Sept. 9, 1964 establishing the commission was signed by President Johnson on Dec. 18.

Under provisions of the new act, the commission must submit its report and recommendations for future public land policies to Congress and the President by June 30, 1970. The act also:

1. Increases the commission's total fund authorization to $7.3 million—an increase of $3.3 million over its original limit of $4 million.
2. Authorizes the commission to require testimony under oath at its hearings.

Rep. Wayne N. Aspinall (D-

Colorado), chairman of the commission, said that the additional time and funds would enable the commission to conduct "the comprehensive type of review necessary to lay the foundations for a sound and constructive land policy. To do this all areas of public land law and administration must be examined."

The commission must review all public land laws, policies and practices; assess the demands for public land resources in the foreseeable future; and recommend future disposal and retention policies which will enable the public lands to serve the maximum benefit for the general public.

The landowners of the Upper Peninsula made strong representations to the commission when it visited the Midwest this year about the need for reforms in federal land policies as they affect the U. P.

Tax Need Grows

Forum on Resources of Upper Michigan in a statement by its chairman, Bruce Buell of Chassell, to the commission in Milwaukee on Oct. 6 stated:

"The management policies of all federal ownership should be re-examined, particularly ownership involved in national parks, wilderness areas and wildlife refuges, to be certain that they are used to the best interest of all the people."

"Considering that local government is on one hand being burdened with additional programs requiring increase in tax revenue, and on the other hand is having their tax source depleted as the government removes lands from the tax base, and considering that this action also injures existing taxpayers and discourages economic expansion, FORUM urges that a change be made in the present method of tax return to the local governing units from federal forest lands."

25 Cent Minimum

FORUM suggested distribution of 25 per cent of national forest receipts and distribute them to the counties in proportion to federal acreage on the same basis as the advance tax returns. This would end the present practice of distributing forest returns only for schools and roads and make them also available to local governments. FORUM asked a federal subsidy to assure that the returns would not fall below 25 cents an acre.

At present FORUM said the two national forests in the U. P. pay in lieu of taxes an average of 6.1 cents an acre (Hawthorne) and 9.5 cents an acre (Ottawa) while average return by private land under the Commercial Forest (Pearson) Act in Michigan is 21.67 cents an acre. State-owned lands pay 20 cents an acre. Taxes on privately owned forest lands out of the commercial reserve averages 42.5 cents an acre.

"The discrimination at the expense of privately owned forests for the support of local government is obvious," said FORUM. "This situation is forcing the abandonment of private forest ownership."

Vicenzi Heads Gas Office Here

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. has appointed James E. Vicenzi supervisor of office and sales for its Escanaba Area, says Thomas K. Horton, Upper Peninsula district manager.

Vicenzi will supervise the company's Escanaba office and sales of gas appliances in Escanaba, Gladstone, Rapid River, Spalding, Powers, Stephenson, Menominee and the Munising-Gwinn area.

Vicenzi, a native of Iron Mountain, attended Adrian College. He joined Michigan Consolidated in 1965 after six years with Hanna Mining Co.'s Groveland Mine.

Prior to his new appointment Vicenzi was a commercial office clerk in the Iron Mountain headquarters of the utility. He was a member of Trinity Methodist Church there where he taught Sunday school and was a youth camp counselor. He was on the commission of education, a member of Iron Mountain's Kingsford Jaycees, and a past master counselor of the George Irving Chapter of DeMolay.

James E. Vicenzi

Vicenzi belongs to Iron Mountain Lodge No. 388 F&AM and has worked on United Foundation drives, promoted blood bank programs and was past chairman of Muscular Dystrophy Fund and East Elementary Parent Teacher Association.

Vicenzi's hobbies include figure skating, skiing, accordion and electric organ, and he is past director of E. S. Athletic Association and producer of winter skating reviews.

Vicenzi and his wife, the former Ione Allen of Hermansville, will reside at 1713 8th Ave., S., with their four children, Brian, 8, Deborah, 7, Melanie, 4, and Shawn, 2.

Farm Security Plan Explained

Beginning Jan. 1, 1968, self-employed farmers can establish a tax deductible retirement plan by depositing ten per cent of their earned income or $2,500 each year.

The amendment to the "Self-Employed Individuals Tax Retirement Act of 1962" removes the restriction that limited the maximum annual tax deduction to $1,250.

Also, the self-employed individual is allowed to compute the amount of his annual retirement plan contribution on the full amount of his net profits, whereas prior to the amendment he could figure the amount on only 30 per cent of net profits.

Ralph E. Hepp, an agricultural economist at Michigan State University, explains that a self-employed individual is anyone who pays self-employment tax under the Federal Social Security system, or any one who may elect to come under the Social Security system and pay self-employment tax.

"Federal income tax deductions are limited to the lesser of 10 per cent of earned income or $2,500 each year. In general, earned income means net earnings from self-employment if personal services are actually rendered," Hepp says.

Federal income taxes on the retirement contributions can be deferred to the retirement years or to when the money is withdrawn and that earnings on the retirement fund are not taxable until funds are withdrawn.

Bay Anglers Busy:

'Ice City' Grows

There's a growing community of ice fishermen on Little Bay de Noc as near-and-below zero weather thickens the ice covering and encourages anglers to start their favorite winter sport.

Only discouraging sound is the continuing crunch as oil tankers break channels through the ice to reach terminals at Escanaba, Kipling and Gladstone.

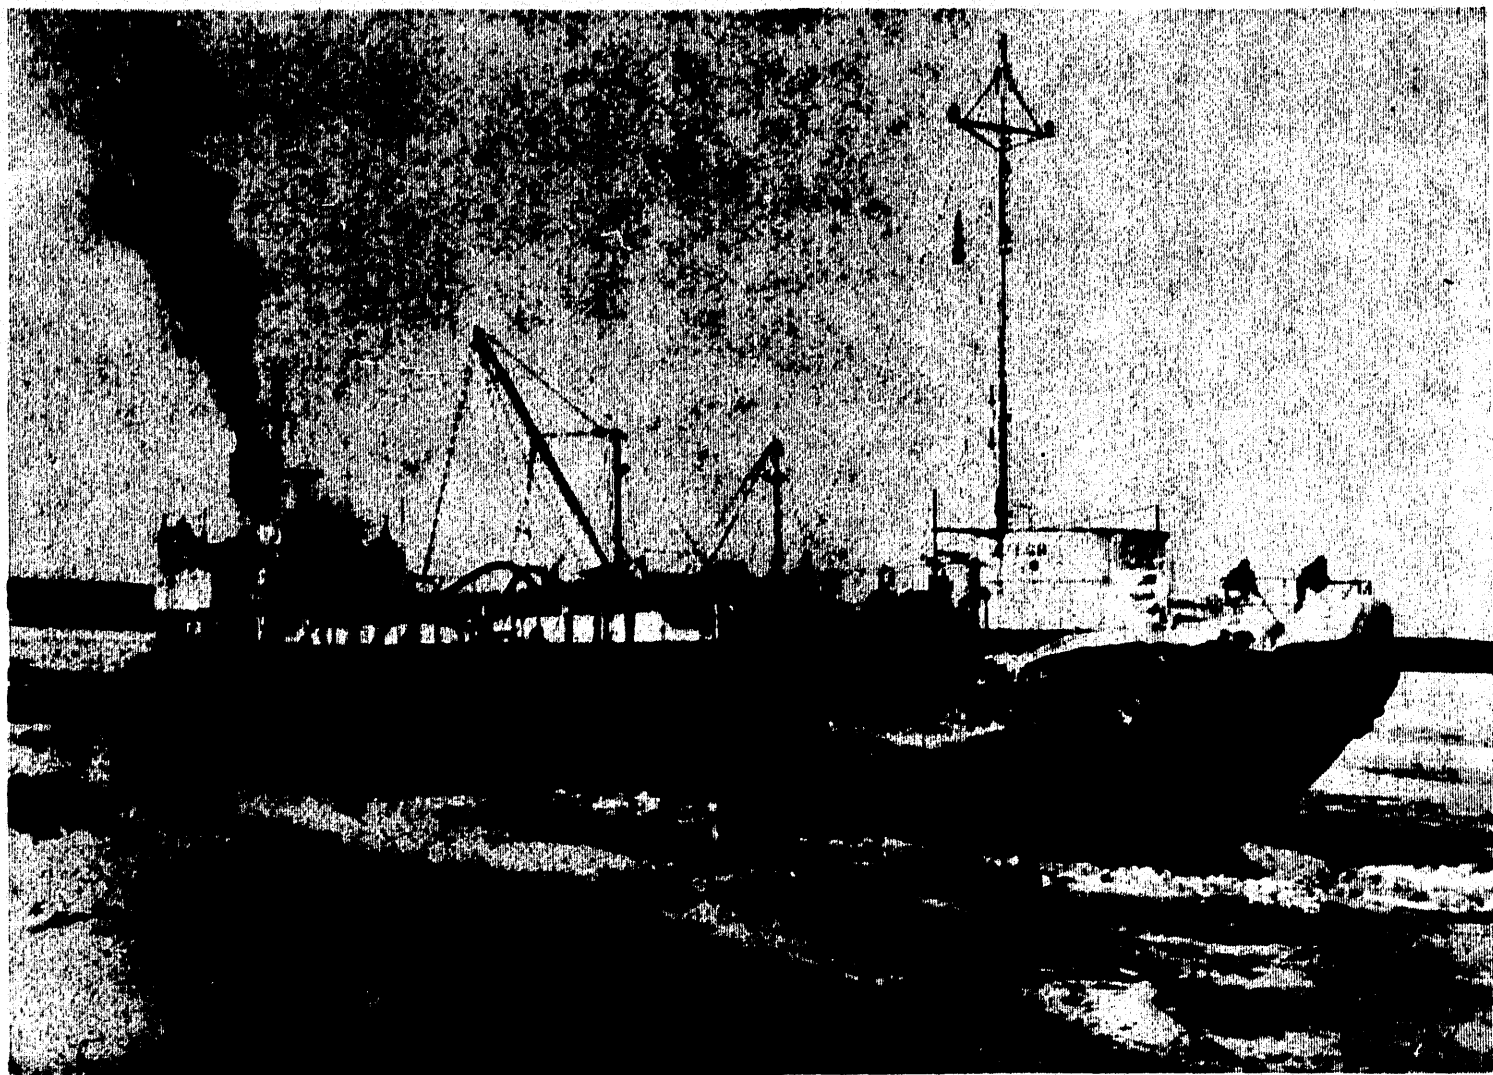

But this will halt soon after Jan. 1 and meanwhile the fishermen in increasing numbers are getting their shanties ready, going over their equipment, and preparing for a winter of fun. On the upper reaches of the bay which the late-season boat traffic doesn't touch, scores of fishermen have their shacks on the ice.

The Conservation Department is alerting fishermen to the fact that the ice shanty identification law has been changed. Under legislation passed in 1967, shanty owners must display their names and addresses in waterproof letters at least two inches high on all sides of their fish houses and shelters. Previously this marking had to appear only on one side.

The new "all sides" requirement will make it easier for conservation officers to locate shanty owners who violate the law by not getting their shelters off the ice before the spring breakup.

But that's months away and right now Robert Timmer, Escanaba District law supervisor for the Department, warns "be careful" — for while the ice is firming up it could still be dangerous in many places.

Fishermen are taking perch primarily right now, with walleyes and northern second.

THE METEOR, which discharged a cargo of 34,000 barrels of fuel oil and gasoline at the Marathon Oil Co. terminal at Gladstone Thursday after being escorted through ice by the Coast Guard cutter Mackinaw, is expected to make one more trip to Little Bay de Noc this year. The old whaleback tanker is scheduled to return to Theisen-Clemens Oil Co., Kipling, Sunday with a cargo of fuel oil and gasoline from South Chicago. The Meteor was escorted out of Little Bay de Noc Thursday night by the Mackinaw. (Daily Press Photo)

Tankers Extend Shipping Season

The shipping season on Little Bay de Noc is expected to extend into the new year, despite thickening ice.

Four more tankers are scheduled into this area, two Saturday, one Sunday and another Jan. 1 or Jan. 2. Ice in the bay ranges up to 10 inches.

The Meteor, which cleared Gladstone harbor Thursday night under escort by the Coast Guard ice breaker Mackinaw, is scheduled to load at South Chicago and return to Theisen-Clemens late Sunday.

The Mercury will follow with another fuel oil and gasoline cargo, possibly Jan. 1 or Jan. 2, Elliott said.

Robert Haack, terminal manager for Standard Oil at Wells, said that two tankers scheduled Saturday—the Amoco Indiana and the Amoco Wisconsin—will close the season for this terminal.

The Amoco Illinois cleared Little Bay de Noc about midnight Thursday after discharging about 2,400,000 gallons of fuel oil and gasoline at the Standard terminal.

Departure of the Meteor

Thursday night closed the shipping season for Marathon Oil Co. at Gladstone, said John Lagina, terminal manager. He said the Meteor's 34,000 barrel cargo left his terminal in "good shape" for the winter.

The Meteor, skippered by Fred A. Bollin, had been stuck in ice Wednesday night but had no difficulties Thursday with the ice breaker escort.

Iron ore shipping from the Chicago & North Western docks in Escanaba ended earlier this month.

In both years, production during November was hit by industrial disputes, but the effects were more serious last year than this.

Cpl. Hoes Of State Police Receives Award

Corporal Wesley Hoes, of the Lansing Police Department, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marenger, Flat Rock, was recently one of eight Lansing area police officers honored at the First Annual Police Recognition luncheon.

The luncheon, sponsored by the Lansing Area Chamber of Commerce, was created by the Chamber to "honor those in the area responsible for law enforcement and to further the cause of law and order."

The service awards, engraved plaques, were based on outstanding performance within the recipient's respective departments and communities.

Hoes, who has been with the Lansing Police Department for over nine years, is the department's training officer and served this year as the educational co-ordinator of the Mid-Michigan Law Enforcement Training Council. He publishes a semi-monthly training bulletin that now has a mailing list throughout the state, and has constructed a police exhibit booth that is used for recruitment.

Hoes is president of his PTA, a member of the Greater Lansing Board of Alcoholism, deacon in the Westminster Presbyterian Church, and an honorary member of Boys' State.

A 1953 graduate of Escanaba Area High School, Hoes served for two years in the U.S. Army and attended Michigan State University where he studied police administration for one year before joining the Lansing Police Department. He still takes courses at MSU.

He is married to the former Barbara Jensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jensen, Escanaba. She is also a 1953 graduate of Escanaba Area High School, is graduated from MSU and is employed as a physical education teacher. They have three children, Christine, David, and Timothy.

Toyota Is Sixth Biggest Car Firm

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's Toyota Automobile Co. reported production in 1967 of 832,000 vehicle units and said this made it the sixth largest automobile maker in the world.

The firm estimated its sales for the year at 800,000 units, of which 652,000 were sold domestically and 157,000 exported.

In 1968, Toyota plans to turn out 1,050,000 automobiles, a 26.2 per cent increase over 1967.

New Pilot Named For U.P. Police

MARQUETTE—State Police in the Upper Peninsula Jan. 7 will have a new "man in the skies" to assist in search, rescue and traffic patrol operations.

Trooper Warren J. Smith will be transferred from the Marquette Post to District Headquarters, Marquette, to pilot the department's Upper Peninsula plane. Smith, who has been an assistant pilot, succeeds Cpl. Leland D. Albright, who has been transferred to Traverse City to pilot a patrol plane for northern lower Michigan.

Sgt. W. I. Treichel, commander of the Gladstone Post, said that the plane is used often in the Delta County area in police work. He pointed out, for example, that flights over wooded areas are used in efforts to locate stolen cars or fugitives and also on drowning search, etc.

Part of the perils of debuting as Dwight D. Eisenhower's granddaughter was posing endlessly for photographers at the expense of dinner.

Earlier Stolper approached someone and begged them to find a place for Miss Eisenhower in the crowded debutante dining room.

"Barbara's going to faint. She hasn't had anything to eat all day," he said.

After the presentation her anxious father, Lt. Col. John Eisenhower, broke in to her dance and after learning she had recovered whirled her around the floor.

More than a thousand persons had gathered to witness the deep bows of a host of offspring of millionaires, politicians and noted old families.

The most debuted young lady at the party was Marion Louise Hosford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney. It was her fifth coming out party of the season and one her mother said she almost didn't make.

"Our private plane had such a time landing in the snowstorm," said Mrs. Whitney.

Out Of Joint

Anyone who has studied statements made for and against the time petition circulated by the Marquette Chamber of Commerce cannot help but be convinced that both sides are seeking the same goal — a return to the time in effect in much of the Upper Peninsula for 20 years or so.

Yet tempers are flaring and controversy is raging over an issue on which unity is necessary if the goal is to be achieved.

We don't know exactly how the U. S. Department of Transportation — the agency charged with enforcement of the so-called "Uniform Time Act" — split Michigan in two, decreeing one time for one part of the state (the Lower Peninsula) and another time for the remainder (the Upper Peninsula.)

We do know that the Uniform Time Act, which became effective in 1967, provided that all states, the District of Columbia and U. S. possessions, must observe Daylight Saving Time beginning at 2 a. m. on the last Sunday in April and ending at 2 a. m. on the last Sunday in October. The law was passed for one reason — to make changes from standard to daylight time, and back, uniform. States previously had changed at will, with the result that the switches were not uniform.

The law provided, however, that any state, by legislative action, could exempt itself from the uniform time act. Michigan's Legislature acted to do so, but Michigan nevertheless was forced to go on daylight saving time — in compliance with the law — when a group of Lower Michigan businessmen, by petition, forced a referendum on the Legislature's action. Such referendum will be held in November, 1968.

The Transportation Department's action in placing the Upper Peninsula in the Central Time Zone was unjustified, possibly even illegal, in view of the fact that virtually all of the U. P. lies east of the 90th longitudinal meridian and is, therefore, in the Eastern Time Zone. A glance at any map of the United States will show this to be an indisputable fact. The Eastern Time Zone, one of eight standard time zones established by Congress in the Uniform Time Act, extends from the 75th to the 90th meridian.

Charges have been made that Mackinac, Chippewa and Luce counties — and more recently Munising and part of Alger County — are defying the Uniform Time Act in placing themselves in the Eastern Time Zone. Actually, they are merely placing themselves in the zone where they belong in compliance with federal law. It's as simple as that.

It should be readily apparent that the Upper Peninsula naturally belongs in the Eastern Time Zone. This is a fact which should be stressed in any petition presented to the U. S. Transportation Department.

The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, the Delta County Board of Supervisors, the Gladstone City Commission and Escanaba City Council have all taken positions in support of Eastern Standard Time for this area.

Delta County is now operating in one hour of evening darkness when it could have one more hour of natural light if it were on Eastern Standard Time. It was on it for years, liked it, got thrown off of it by the hassle that Congress set up with the Uniform Time Act.

When Michigan exempted itself from that act some drive-in theaters, bars and others in Lower Michigan circulated petitions which suspended the legislative action on exemption until the referendum next year. Marquette and Delta counties want to get back to their old time and proposed not to wait for "time" to heal their chronometric wounds.

Sports Club View

The Northern Michigan Sportsmen's Association announces that it is supporting the Iron Mountain-Kingsford Sportsmen Club's petition for an end to antlerless deer seasons.

The reasoning advanced:

1. Any deer hunts were tolerable when there had been severe winter loss of deer and when the deer yards were in poor condition to support the herd.
2. Any deer hunts have been too much enlarged to take too many deer.
3. Everyone knows that there were more deer killed in the 1940s and 1950s without any deer hunts.
4. So why shouldn't we knock off any deer hunts and get back to the good hunting of the 1940s?

We hope that this fallacious reasoning won't induce many persons to sign the petitions. They're well-intentioned, but uninformed.

What the NMSA is proposing is to substitute the opinion of hunters for that of the scientists who recommend deer management policies on a basis of their scientific studies of deer conditions.

There seems to be a feeling among some hunters that the Conservation Department has goofed on deer policy and that as a result we have fewer deer than we used to have.

We certainly have fewer deer and poorer hunting, but the Conservation said a long time ago that this was inevitable and that it didn't know any way to prevent it. In the 1940s there was a great eruption in deer population because of very ample natural feed. It no longer exists. The forests that provided it have grown up and no longer provide so much young growth to feed deer.

To provide the greatest possible number of deer for hunting under these new conditions the Conservation Department has been recommending a shootoff of the deer (of all sexes and ages — they all eat and all affect the range) to bring the herd into balance with the food supply. In this way the hunters would crop off the deer and take them home instead of having them die of famine and rot in the woods.

No one has ever suggested that this process will provide as much hunting as when the Upper Peninsula's forests were young and full of deer feed. It was only suggested that this was the best way to provide most hunting under current conditions.

It has been suggested that the sportsmen's clubs should be given their way and deer management tailored to their recommendations. In this way the Conservation Department would have a chance to show that herd management (cropping of deer in excess of the food supply) was best. But this would discard the state's best knowledge about how to provide deer plenty and spend several years in a demonstration of futility.

State Printing Week Research Suggests:

Father Richard May Not Have Been First Printer

The Graphic Arts Association of Michigan is sponsoring "Printing Week in Michigan" as proclaimed by Governor Romney Jan. 14-20. The Association is the coordinated body of most of the printing and related graphic arts firms conducting business throughout our state.

GAAM's researchers spent time at the Burton Historical Collection of the Detroit Public Library attempting to discover who was Michigan's first printer. There has been controversy on the subject.

The book "Early Printing in Michigan" by McMurtre, and "Michigan Imprinting: 1789-1850," say the man who brought the first printing press to Michigan was John McCall, in 1796. Burton Collection director Jim Babcock sticks with the more popular favorite as Michigan's pioneer printer, Father Gabriel Richard, who bought a press and type in the east and had it sent to Detroit in 1809.

At least one document seems to support the McCall group, it is headed "United States Laws, Statutes, etc., at the first session of the Fourth Congress of the United States of America. Begun and held at the City of Philadelphia, Monday, the seventh of December 1795." This was an "act to regulate trade and intercourse with the Indian tribes, and to preserve peace on the frontiers." The credit at the bottom of the document shows John McCall as the printer, and Detroit as the location of the printer. Yet, there are those who say it was not unusual during those times, to have a different location than that of the actual printing work noted at the bottom of the document.

Very little seems to be known of McCall or his press. The conclusion seems to be that this press—if it existed—and all the type were destroyed in the great fire of 1805 which leveled the frontier settlement of Detroit.

There doesn't appear to have been any printing in Michigan, taking Father Richard's side, until 1809. The year prior, Father Richard made a trip east to solicit donations toward rebuilding St. Anne's Church which had burned in the same fire which reportedly destroyed McCall's place in Michigan printing history.

While in the east, Father Richard found a second-hand press and some type, and because of his great desire to educate and raise the cultural level of the frontier folk, made arrangements to have the equipment sent to Detroit.

The printing activity of what has come to be known as the Richard Press began with "The Child's Spelling Book and Michigan Instructor," which was very likely compiled by the priest himself. This began printing in Michigan under the direction and patronage of Father Gabriel Richard, "Detroit's most remarkable citizen of the first third of the nineteenth century," as stated in Michigan Imprinting: 1789-1850.

But Father Richard's activities were centered around rebuilding St. Anne's and his other responsibilities, and he did not actually ever run the press. The first actual printer was James M. Miller, who was brought here from Utica, N. Y. Miller's name appears on many of the state's earliest documents; books reprinted both in French and English at his shop were also for sale there. The fact that the population of Detroit and the surrounding country was largely French at this time is reflected in the high percentage of imprints in the French language.

Another important pioneering item from the Richard Press was Michigan's first newspaper — not the Detroit Gazette which is generally acknowledged as the state's first newspaper—but the "Michigan Essay or, The Impartial Observer." It lasted only one issue. The four-column, four-page, tabloid-size newspaper drew heavily for its news from eastern newspapers. Not a single item of local interest was in its columns. The explanatory item said: "It will be published every Thursday, and handed to city subscribers at 5 dollars per ann; payable half-yearly in advance."

Another of the pioneering items from the Richard Press was a document drawn up as a result of the political unrest of the times, and dissatisfaction with Governor William Hull by a number of citizens, including Augustus B. Woodward, chief justice of the Territory of Michigan. This document set forth proposals to Congress that a legislative form of government be formed in Michigan, actually to cut down the powers of Gov. William Hull. The governor became infamous for his surrender of Detroit in 1812 without resistance of any kind on the request of British General Brock. Original of the document, printed on the Richard Press on Oct. 15, 1809, is in the Burton Collection.

Michigan's actual second printer who replaced Miller was named Aaron Coxshaw, and his successor, a French-Canadian, Theophile Mettez, was Michigan's first apprentice printer, as he learned the trade under Coxshaw. These three, Miller, Coxshaw and Mettez were the only persons to operate the Richard Press.

In 1816, Mettez printed the "Seven Acts of the Territory of Michigan," known later as the Cass Code. This was the last known document from the Richard Press. The press which had done so much for the frontier community by supplying it with reading matter in many fields at a time when transportation facilities made it difficult and expensive to import books from the East disappeared from the scene—we might say almost as mysteriously as did the McCall press, although Richard left quite a legitimate backlog of Michiganiana.

And from the austere beginnings of this one press 159 years ago, Michigan's printing and graphic arts industry has grown to be one of the largest in the world.

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Defense Secretary Robert McNamara is tired. His personal staff is tired. They're still working long hours but they're beginning to drag.

McNamara is pictured as a hard, tough operator who does not like to have people think he is right. He has been known to almost frantically button-hole people who have accused him of error to try to prove he was right after all.

Criticism bothers McNamara more than any secretary of defense this reporter has ever watched in operation.

More and more of late, McNamara has seen his policies, openly or behind-the-scenes, criticized heavily by sections of the public, Congress, the administration and the press. He is close personally to some of the men who criticize our Vietnam policies most strongly.

More and more this criticism has been getting under McNamara's skin. He has been galled most by recent accusations that he has been dishonest in his statements, in the figures he gives out, in the proof he offers for his defense decisions.

McNamara likes to be top man. At the World Bank, he'll be No. 1. In the Pentagon, he'll be No. 2; the President makes the final decisions. For McNamara, about 631 square miles.

Oklahoma City, capital of Oklahoma, covers an area of it's a severe strain to operate when the decisions are not his.

McNamara has never been comfortable with military men. He came to the Pentagon with preconceived notions of men on horseback. He has seen to the removal of some high-ranking officers whose attitudes disturbed him. Formally, in practice, his relationship with his military advisers has been correct. He has had no revolts, no organized sabotage of his programs. There has been no move toward mass or group resignations. But there has not been complete mutual trust.

RESOLUTION
The Delta County Cancer Society joins with the American Cancer Society in urging all citizens to make a New Year's resolution regarding their own personal health: An annual health check-up that includes testing to detect cancer in its earliest stages.

It is estimated that in 1968 approximately 600,000 new cancer cases will be diagnosed for the first time in the United States. Cancer strikes at any age—it affects children as well as adults, but it strikes with increasing frequency with advancing age.

The Delta County Cancer Society fights cancer through: 1—Educational programs and literature; 2—Services to cancer patients; and 3—the Cancer Crusade drive.

Therefore, we of the local unit of the American Cancer Society urge all residents of Delta County to make and keep their first New Year's resolution: Have a complete health check-up.

Until You've Tried It, Don't Knock It

Dear Ann Landers: Many people start out by saying, "I never thought I would have to write to you," but I am not one of those. I have long suspected that one day you would go too far and arouse my indignation to the point where I could no longer remain silent. Today is the day.

Strangely enough, it is not your narrow, antiquated views on sex that prompt me to write — it is the letter from the girl whose friend was embarrassed by her ragged underwear when she was admitted to the hospital emergency room.

She said, "Luckily Della suffered only a broken shoulder and dislocated hip but wasn't concerned about her injuries. It was her faded and soiled underwear that caused her the most agony." And then you, like a big boob, counseled: "Check your linen, girls. Are you wearing a girdle and bra you wouldn't mind modeling in an emergency ward?" All I can say is, "Good grief."

Della should have been thankful to almighty God that she was alive instead of worrying about her underwear. And you backed her up!

I could care less about the condition of my underwear. It's way down on the list of things that count. I think you are both crazy. — RAGGED BUT CAREFREE

Dear Ragged: If this column did nothing but point up the human frailties and kookiness of people it would serve a useful purpose. It is comforting to know that even the most balanced and stable individuals have a nutty hang-up or two. And incidentally, there is something to be said for tidy underwear. If you haven't tried it, don't knock it.

Dear Ann Landers: I was glad to see a letter in your column which pointed out that a great many people who complain about the free loaders on relief speak from vague generalities. They have no evidence that the "free loader" is really a lazy good-for-nothing who would rather dog it than put in an honest day's work.

I was on welfare for two years and it meant the difference between life and death to me and my family. My husband sneaked out of the house one winter night and left a note saying he was going off with Veronica to make a new life. I had heard about Veronica but I felt sure his passion for her would cool, as it had for the three dollies who preceded her. My husband left behind four children under six years of age and a stack of unpaid bills. It was December and the coal bin was nearly empty. There was very little food in the house and our relationship with the grocer was on a cash-only basis. We were what they call "slow pay."

When I married, my family told me I couldn't count on them for any help and they meant it. If I had not had the assistance of welfare I hate to think of what would have happened to me and my children. So, thank you, Ann, for refusing to run with the herd who condemn everyone on relief. We are not all parasites. — X.Y.Z.

Dear X: From the dawn of history there have always been people who would rather loaf than work. The shovel-leader was not born of the W.P.A. in 1933. He was around when they built the Pyramids and he'll be with us as long as man exists. We must not withhold a helping hand to the ones who need it in order to protect ourselves from being taken in—and no one denies that we DO get taken in—plenty.

What awaits you on the other side of the marriage veil? How can you be sure your marriage will work? Read Ann Landers' booklet "Marriage — What To Expect." Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50c in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Sportsmen Asking Halt In U.P. Any Deer Hunts

The Northern Michigan Sportsmen's Association is supporting the Iron Mountain-Kingsford Sportsmen Club in petition for an end to the antlerless deer hunts, reports Stan Kusmirek, NMSA secretary, of Munising.

Angelo Palluconi, president of the club, said that all sportsmen clubs in the Upper Peninsula are being encouraged to circulate copies of the petition, which can be obtained from him, 1304 Grand Boulevard Curve, Iron Mountain, Mich., 49801.

The NMSA, said Kusmirek, has opposed any deer hunts for years "and now we feel that public sentiment has finally reached a point where the petition action now being taken is justifiable. At the time that Mike DeFant served as president of the NMSA there was a feeling within the organization that due to severe winter losses and the poor status of the yards, there should be a reduction of the herd through antlerless deer hunting. At that time the NMSA went on record in support of the Conservation Department (deer management policy.)"

Kill Increased

"Several areas were designated in the Upper Peninsula and a moderate number of deer were removed — bucks, does and fawns. Gradually these areas were enlarged and the number of legal deer taken was increased and suddenly we found ourselves almost completely blanketed by these areas and the any deer kill greatly increased.

"Anyone familiar with the deer areas in Upper Michigan must admit that there has been a substantial reduction in deer numbers in the areas which in the 1940s and 1950s afforded good hunting. It is true that many hunters feel some deer control must be exercised by taking out some does and fawns, but not in the numbers which the Conservation Department advocates.

"Thus from the beginning when a realistic limited kill was allowed to the present day quotas there appears in the average person's mind a feeling that the program has come to a point where more harm than good is stemming from the any deer season."

Throw Out Scientists

The Conservation Department's first any deer quotas were small because of political pressures against any deer hunts. The reduction of the herd was not a random result of the any deer hunts, but a calculated result that was desired to bring the herd into balance with available winter feed so that hunters would kill off the deer and take them home rather than have them starve and rot in the woods.

The conditions in the deer ranges which existed in the 1940s after new growth providing much deer feed covered many old burn areas no longer exist. The range (natural foods) won't support as many deer now as then.

What the petitions of the NMSA really ask, suggest supporters of the state's deer control program, is for the hunters to replace the game biologists, ecologists and other scientists who now make the recommendations incorporated into state policy to provide the largest numbers of deer possible for hunters.

Yule Gifts Spur Power Failure

BELLPORT, N.Y. (AP) — A power failure left about 100 homes without electricity for about 1½ hours Thursday evening, the Long Island Lighting Co. said.

The company said the reason for the blackout was a heavy holiday demand including in part the use of appliances received as Christmas presents.

NOTICE

Because of the New Year's Holiday, the collection of garbage in Escanaba (for the first week in January) will be one day later than the regular schedule.

New Heating Can Give More Room

By installing electric heating you can often add a room to your home without hiring a carpenter or pounding a single nail into a two by four.

A number of home owners are finding, happily, that a change-over to electric heat can mean added space in an old home.

On Grove Street in New York City stands a row of dormer roofed houses. They are called the Lafayette houses because the French General once took up residence in one of them during a visit to America in the 18th century. They are well constructed buildings and over the years "modern" conveniences have been added to them which did not always add to their esthetic values.

In one of these houses recently the owner, determined to get rid of an ugly heating system that destroyed the symmetry of his rooms, decided to install flameless electric heating.

Another advantage of electric heating in this installation was that the owner had planned to update the outmoded and inadequate wiring in his home. Part of the cost of updating the electrical system was absorbed by the decision to change to electric heating at the same time.

The kitchen, which for the past several decades had occupied an inadequate addition at the rear of the building, was moved into the back room of the ground level basement where it had originally been in Lafayette's time. The front basement had become a generous sized dining area.

The electrical transformation of a Lafayette house points out the practical aspects of utilizing electric heating in older homes.

TRADITIONAL COMFORT: The over-all impression of the exterior of this two-story house is one of solidity and comfortable living. Architectural lines create the illusion of width, although the frontage is only 45', enabling it to fit on a lot of modest size.

Two-Story Has Flexibility

By ANDY LANG

Built-in flexibility is the key feature of a traditional two-story house that equally meets the needs of a large family and a family that may become large.

The house has a six-bedroom potential, aimed at the family which requires that much space. But until that time arrives, the room plan allows the use of three of the bedrooms for other purposes. For instance, the room adjacent to the owners' bedroom will serve as a sitting room for TV or reading, creating a suite tied in to a sun deck and a private bath. This is made possible by a layout that per-individual may appreciate such an opportunity to include in his home an office for conducting business in a limited fashion.

FLOOR PLANS: Family room at rear of house is completely accessible from the kitchen-dinette, the dining room and the terrace. Spare room on first floor and two of the bedrooms on the second floor can be utilized as desired.

The house is a true center hall plan with a covered entry approach. A curved stair railing adds interest to a generous foyer with a coat closet nearby.

The closet is in such a position that it can serve both the front door and garage entry in that area. There is a second entrance from the garage into the house — the second one leading into the service section. This dual entrance from the garage is unusual in single family house plans. Incidentally, a powder room just past the foyer is nicely situated to serve both the formal living areas as well as the kitchen-service portion.

Another flexible feature of this design is the location of the family room, which is open to the kitchen yet separated by two steps and a railing with direct view and access from the housewife's "control" area. Also, the family room is placed at the rear so that it can be built at a later time if it is not desired immediately. The house functions completely with or without this space. The plans call for this room, built immediately or later, to have a cathedral ceiling, a fireplace, wood paneled walls and sliding glass doors leading to a rear terrace.

The living room and the dining room, in line at the right side of the house, provide a vista of 33' and an exceptionally large area for entertaining. The kitchen, with all modern appliances and a dinette, is very spacious—21' 8" in length.

The completeness of the planning is evidenced by the care taken to include such desirable features as a chute from the second floor to the laundry room on the first floor, a mud closet near the garage door, a vacuum cleaner closet, a split bath off the bedroom hall, cross ventilation in all six bedrooms.

A recital of these highlights may lead one to believe that the house covers a large plot of ground. Actually, it is only 45' wide, so that it could be placed on a lot 60' wide in many localities. Its depth is 50' 5", meaning that it would fit comfortably on a 60' by 100' lot.

The lower level at the front is brick, with design overtones of French Provincial. A second-floor cantilever above the living room bay window creates a longer horizontal line than would normally be possible in a house 45' wide.

Fishing Picks Up; Ice Is Hazardous

DETROIT (AP)—The best ice fishing conditions in Michigan this week are near the Saginaw Bay and Traverse City areas, the Automobile Club of Michigan Club reports.

On Saginaw Bay, perch and pike are biting off Bay Port at Wild Fowl Bay. Best bait reported are minnows and beardless Russian hooks.

Near Traverse City, bluegill, walleye and pike are being caught at Silver Lake Mousee wax worms are the favorite bait. Plenty of perch are reported hitting at Spider Lake, with wigglers and minnows for bait.

But the Auto Club warns ice conditions around the state range from good to poor and unsafe. New snow in some areas has kept fishermen from venturing more than a few feet from shore.

In This Corner

With RAY CRANDALL

The Rose Bowl classic at Pasadena New Year's day will have an Upper Peninsula flavor in sophomore end Eric Stolberg of Indiana. The slender flanker, who wears No. 89, is the son of the late Earl T. Stolberg, former Iron Mountain athlete and All-American pole vaulter at Marquette University. Stolberg is described by Coach John Pont as "a good runner with the ball and the best man on our squad at executing pass patterns." Stolberg stands 6 feet 3 inches and weighs 178 pounds.

Bowling fans are still buzzing over the TV explosion by pin artist Casey Jones of Plymouth, Wis., recently. Jones blasted an all-time high 802 series on games of 247, 276 and 279 on the Channel 2 Northeastern Wisconsin bowling show. He whipped in 30 strikes including 13 straight at one stretch in the second and third games. Victim of his sensational series was Zig Guzowski of Iron River who fashioned a respectable series of 596 on games of 177, 222 and 197.

Pitcher Tom Seaver of the New York Mets, recently named National League Rookie of the Year, has a sister living in Menominee. She's Mrs. Mike (Katy) Jones.

Randy Fochesato, Coach Don Hill's slim 5 foot 11 inch senior marksmen, is the leading scorer in the Big Six Conference as the teams get set to return to action after the holiday recess. Fochesato has tallied 75 points in three conference contests. Runner-up is Mark Smith of Channing's league leading Railroaders who has scored in 63 points. Fochesato was the league's scoring champion last year with 517 points.

Fochesato is the latest in a long line of high scorers turned out by Hill at Hermansville. He has pumped in 1,122 points in his Redskin prep career in spite of being sidelined by illness part of his junior year. He's the son of Reno Fochesato, himself a former outstanding Hermansville athlete who established the current Upper Peninsula Class D record of 10.2 in the 100 yard dash, set in 1942.

The Escanaba Eskymos provided Marinette with its biggest home football game of the season last fall. The Esky game drew $1,216 through the turnstiles, compared with $484 for the Racine Horlick game, $804 for Wausau and $321 for Superior. Marinette's share of the gate from the Menominee game was $1,928.

Texas Team Stirs Donny

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Donny Anderson of Green Bay doesn't need any special incentive Sunday when the Packers meet the Dallas Cowboys for the National Football League crown. But he has one anyway.

The Cowboys are from Texas. So is Anderson. "That's my home state and I'm a home state ball player," the former Texas Tech All American said.

The main inspiration comes from the quality of the opposition and the situation itself. Anderson, who signed with the Packers for a reported $585,000 after the 1965 collegiate season,

Esky Hawks Play Prison

The Escanaba Hawks hockey team travels to Marquette Sunday to play an exhibition game with the Prison team. Game time is 2 p.m., and players are asked to meet at the home of Manager Ovid Provo, 800 Stephenson Avenue, at 12 noon.

Last year's Hawks compiled a record of 7 wins and 1 loss, that to a powerful Calumet sextet on their home ice. This season the Hawks will be able to use an 18 man team giving them more bench strength. Coach Eddie Provo plans to use three lines on offense giving each scoring unit enough rest to go all out when they are on the ice.

Top College Quints Spilled In Tournaments

By The Associated Press
Boston College, the nation's 10th-ranked team, will meet Louisville, led by All-American Wesley Unseld, on the final day of the New York Holiday Festival Basketball Tournament. That was expected.

At stake will be third place in the annual ECAC event. That was not expected.

As a matter of fact, the unexpected popped up at various spots around the tournament circuit Thursday night as such powerhouses as Indiana, No. 3 in the country, and Tennessee, No. 4, were also defeated a bit.

New York City basketball, known more for developing and losing the Lew Alcindors than for keeping them, enjoyed one of its finest moments at Madison Square Garden where St. John's beat Boston College for the second time this season, 60-

Eaton's Squad Hides Workout

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The threat of espionage has sent Wyoming's Cowboys scurrying to secrecy for the final practices before their Sugar Bowl duel New Year's Day with Louisiana State.

After several days of confusion — at least for sports writers and Sugar Bowlers, Wyoming coach Lloyd Eaton disclosed that his unbeaten and untied Cowboys, sixth ranked football team in the nation, are training under wraps.

Eaton made arrangements with the National Football League Saints to practice in the tightly enclosed enclave used by the New Orleans team in the suburbs.

Wyoming had been scheduled to drill on Tulane University's practice field in the shadow of the 80,895-seat Sugar Bowl Stadium. When sports writers showed up for the scheduled practices, Eaton and Wyoming were nowhere to be found.

Eaton was pinned down Thursday for comment on reports of spys. "The word 'spy' is yours," replied the Wyoming mentor. "It's not our word. I think we just felt more comfortable at the Saints' practice field."

Trojans Lose Another Grid Star On Eve Of Rose Bowl Grid Clash

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Injury has claimed another University of Southern California football standout as 250-pound guard Mike Scarpace went to surgery today to repair a knee ligament torn in practice for the Rose Bowl.

Scarpace joins flanker Jim Lawrence and defensive end Jim Gunn on the sideline crew of the national champions who battle Indiana in the New Year's Day classic.

Lawrence hurt a knee in the ninth game of the season against Oregon State and Gunn suffered the same type of injury against UCLA in the finale.

Coach John McKay reported Scarpace, an All-Pacific-8 performer on offense, was hurt in a Thursday scrimmage. One knee-injury victim will be back in action — fullback Mike Hull who was operated on early in the season after being a standout in 1966.

Scarpace was an important cog in leading sweeps and clearing the way for O.J. Simpson, the halfback who led the nation in rushing this past season. The big guard will be replaced by senior Dennis Born, a 237-pounder.

How the loss of Scarpace affects the Trojans remains to be seen, but Coach McKay has termed his squad vastly superior to the club which lost to Purdue 14-13 in the last Rose Bowl.

The principal difference is Simpson, who transferred from junior college in San Francisco to become an All-American in his first year with the Trojans and lead the nation with 1,415 yards rushing.

Indiana fans continued pouring into Pasadena with 7,500 expected for the Hoosier state for the game. Although Coach John Pont had declared Thursday's practice would be closed, he relented and allowed the Indiana partisans to watch.

Even the school's cheer leaders were on hand to lead yells, but today, as Pont, the work-out would indeed be closed to spectators. After Saturday's drill, the team will go to a monastery to await the game. Southern California also was to work out today and Saturday.

57 and Columbia stopped Louisville 74-67.

The St. John's victory wasn't decided until the final minute when Rudy Bogad and Joe De-Pre put in six free throws, but it was still less nerve-racking than the Indiana's 91-90 victory in overtime earlier in the season.

"I guess they're the better team," BC Coach Bob Cousy said. "Almost doesn't count."

Columbia's victory was particularly satisfying, as the Lions made up a seven-point halftime deficit. Sophomore Jim McMillian scored 24 points, though Louisville's Unseld topped all the scorers with 25.

Indiana's six-game winning streak came to a rude end in the All Sports Association tournament in Dallas, Tex., where Western Kentucky, 6-2, took the lead early and never lost it, winning 110-91.

Wayne Chapman scored 34 points for the winners and Rich Hendrick added 26.

Tennessee carried Iowa into overtime at the Los Angeles Classic, before losing its first in five games 64-59. Baskets in overtime by Dick Jensen, Sam Williams and Ron Norman won for the Hawkeyes. Williams led the scorers with 25 points.

But the road was not so rough for some of the other Top Ten teams Friday. Fifth-ranked North Carolina beat Stanford 87-78 and Utah, No. 7, edged Oregon, 64-63 in the Far West Classic at Portland, Ore.

Bergman Hits Pair Of Goals

DETROIT (AP) — For the first time since Gary Bergman became a Detroit Red Wings defenseman, it will take two hands to count his goals.

Bergman scored the last two Detroit goals in a 5-3 National Hockey League victory over the Philadelphia Flyers Thursday night.

"I thought the third one was in," said Bergman, in his fourth NHL season. "It was just an inch inside the post, but it just skipped off the top of (Doug) Favell's glove and missed the net."

The two goals gave Bergman six for the season, his best goal production since joining the Wings after being drafted from Montreal in 1964.

The victory snapped a three-game Detroit losing streak, but the Wings remained tied for last place in the Eastern Division with Montreal, which beat Minnesota 6-2 in the only other NHL game on tap.

Philadelphia, a strong defensive team, remained tied for first place in the expansion Western Division with Los Angeles despite absorbing its third straight loss.

Aerial Football Circus Set For Television Fans

By The Associated Press
The last big weekend of the college football season begins Saturday, and indications are that the fan who makes a day of it in front of his television set will see passes, passes and more passes.

It will be a battle of quarterbacks all over the country as Penn State and Florida State meet in the Gator Bowl, Texas-El Paso and Mississippi clash in the Sun Bowl, North plays South in the Blue-Gray Game and East meets West in the Shrine Game.

Kim Hammond, who threw 140 complete passes for 1,991 yards and 15 touchdowns during the regular season, leads Florida State in the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla. (ABC-TV 2 p.m., EST). Ron Sellers, Hammond's favorite target, caught 70 throws for 1,228 yards and eight touchdowns.

But the Penn State passer, Tom Sherman, is no slouch either. He hit on 104 passes for 1,616 yards and 13 touchdowns during the season. Jack Curry caught 41 of them and Ted Kwaliak hauled in 33.

In the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., to be carried on a special network of 125 television stations, the Texas-El Paso squad has a pair of passers that rank with the best around—Billy Stevens and Brooks Dawson. They threw a total of 26 touchdowns passes this season.

Stevens threw six TD passes in a 47-17 rout of Brigham Young in one game and in the next contest, with Stevens hurt, Dawson threw six against New Mexico. The team led the country in scoring average and total offense.

Mississippi's quarterback Bruce Newell passed for 663 yards and six touchdowns during the season and also gained

Braves Trip Crusader '5'

The Gladstone Braves built up a 13 point lead midway in the second quarter here Thursday night and then held off a furious Holy Name comeback in the closing period for a 67-61 exhibition victory.

The triumph boosted Coach Bill Wood's Braves over the 500 mark for the campaign (3-2) while the setback was Holy Name's seventh straight this season.

The game ended in a flurry of free throws as Gladstone clinched the decision from the charity stripe. The Braves scored their final eight points from the foul line and the Crusaders tallied five of their final seven from the stripe.

Steve Nelson and Pete Jarvis put the Braves out of reach in the final half minute by connecting on both ends of 1-and-1 situations after the Crusaders had pulled to within two points, 63-61, on a gift shot by Terry Dufour with 39 seconds remaining in the game.

It was the same old story for the Crusaders who outscored the Braves by one field goal, 24 to 23. They lost it from the foul line where Gladstone converted 21 of 33 attempts. Holy Name hit on 13 of 22.

Gladstone took command early in the game and swept to a 21-11 lead at the end of the first frame with Dennis Anderson, a 6 foot 4 inch junior, leading the way.

Holy Name, playing an aggressive game in attempting to catch up, began to gather personal fouls at an alarming rate and the Braves made the most of it from the line. They spread their margin to 13 points at 30-17 midway in the second quarter.

A pair of late buckets by Fran Veldman and Chris Young cut Holy Name's deficit to 51-43 entering the final period.

With Veldman, Steve Fisher, Steve Houle and Chris Young finding the range, Holy Name surged back to within one point, 55-54, with 3:30 to go. It was tight from there to the final half minute when Nelson and Jarvis put it away from the free throw line. The Braves had missed a number of golden opportunities earlier in the quarter by blowing six attempts from the line, including five 1-and-1 situations.

Gladstone dominated the boards with 46 rebounds, topped by Nelson with 19 and Mark Stupak 17. Veldman was Holy Name's leading rebounder.

Four Gladstone starters, who went the distance, reached double scoring figures. Nelson set the pace with 21 points while Anderson, in the best performance of his prep career, chipped in with 17, Stupak 11 and Mark Weber 10. Jarvis added eight.

Dufour and Al Grabowski led the balanced Holy Name attack with a dozen points apiece. Holy Name won the jayvee game, 54-40, handing Gladstone its first loss of the season.

Holzman Loser In First Game

By The Associated Press
Red Holzman hasn't really begun work yet in his new job as coach of the New York Knickerbockers. Yet, he's already one-half game worse off than when he took over.

That's because the streaking Cincinnati Royals beat the San Francisco Warriors 126-122 Thursday night. The triumph increased the fourth-place Royals lead over fifth-place New York to 2½ games in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division. Only the top four qualify for the post-season playoffs.

Walter Johnson holds the American League record for pitchers leading the circuit in strikeouts. He was the whiff king 12 years between 1910-24.

Manistique Area Asks 5.5 Mills

MANISTIQUE — Voters of the Manistique Area school district will be asked to approve an additional 5.5 mills for school operations at a special election Feb. 16.

Passage of the request would lift district tax support to 15.7 mills and allow restoration of school programs cutback this year because of financial problems, reduce the $20,000 deficit of the current year and also reduce instructional fees.

Currently, the district levies 10.2 mills for school operation, one of the lowest figures for larger school districts in the Upper Peninsula. Of the millage, 6.2 mills was allocated by the Schoolcraft County Tax Allocation Board and 4.0 mills is extra voted.

(The Escanaba Area public schools, for example, currently levies 7.2 mills allocated by the Delta County Tax allocation board, plus 7.5 mills voted in two special elections. The Escanaba Board of Education also will ask additional operating millage at an election in February. No specific proposal has been set.)

The 5.5 mill figure for the Feb. 16 election was approved by the Board of Education as a compromise between the 6.2 mills estimated by Supt. Edwin Wuchle as needed to restore the entire school program and

Paul Whiteman, 76, Dies Today

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Famed bandleader Paul Whiteman, the "King of Jazz," died today apparently of a heart attack. He was 76.

The musician was rushed to Doylestown Hospital about 4:30 a.m. after he was stricken in his home near his Bucks County town 25 miles northeast of Philadelphia.

Whiteman was considered the dean of modern American music and the man who first combined classical music with jazz. He commissioned George Gershwin to compose "Rhapsody in Blue" and conducted it in 1924 in the first jazz concert ever given. He also introduced Ferde Grofe's "Grand Canyon Suite." His recording of "Three O'Clock in the Morning" sold 3 million copies.

Whiteman, known to his associates as "Pops," directed such musical stars as Bing Crosby, Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey, Morton Downey and Benny Goodman when his band was the most popular in the country between World War I and World War II.

Whiteman had one son, Paul Jr., by a previous marriage to Vanda Hoff. He and his fourth wife, Margaret, had a daughter, Margot.

Romney Gets Cambodia Data

SINGAPORE — (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan arrived in Singapore from Jakarta today and neared the end of his world tour.

The highlight of Romney's 24-hour visit to this 240 square-mile island nation will be a meeting Saturday afternoon with Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew.

Romney is likely to receive a briefing on the prime minister's week-long visit to Cambodia earlier this month.

Romney has been sounding out foreign leaders about the possibility of neutralizing North and South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia as a basis for achieving peace in Southeast Asia.

Cambodia, currently in the midst of a diplomatic exchange with the United States over accusations that its border areas are being used as sanctuaries by Vietnamese Communists, would be one of the key countries involved in any neutralization formula.

Romney's last stop before returning home will be New Delhi.

Romney has not proposed any specific plan for ending the Vietnam war, but during his world tour has discussed such approaches as neutralization. He has made it clear he will not talk about the substance of his conversations on the tour.

Sentence Dixie Slayers Today

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A U.S. district judge today sentenced seven white men convicted of conspiracy in the deaths of three civil rights workers in Neshoba County.

The seven were convicted by an all-white jury in Meridian in October of conspiracy to violate the civil rights of Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 20, both of New York, and James Chaney, 22, a Meridian Negro.

Indictments were issued under a 97-year-old Reconstruction era law providing a maximum sentence of 10 years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

The state has never filed charges, contending all evidence is in the hands of the federal government.

The seven were Sam Holloway Bowers Jr., 42, imperial wizard of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan; Neshoba County Deputy Sheriff Cecil Price; former nightclub bouncer Alton Wayne Roberts; Horace Doyle Barnett, 31; Billy Wayne Posey, 30, a former service station operator; and Jimmy Arledge, 29, and Jimmy Snowden, both truck drivers.

Sentencing was delayed pending completion of presentence reports from federal probation officers and legal work on appeal motions.

The bodies were taken in the station wagon to a pond dam under construction. A bulldozer pushed dirt over the bodies to form a tomb.

The station wagon was found burned miles from the dam site. An intensive FBI investigation resulted in finding the bodies 44 days after the slayings.

Drinking Drivers Advised To Eat Mashed Potatoes

DETROIT (AP) — Shy away from drinking drivers New Year's eve unless they've eaten their potatoes, advises the Automobile Club of Michigan.

"We are recommending that motorists consume a large amount of mashed potatoes before a party," says Auto Club executive vice-president Richard R. Dann.

"Mashed potatoes act like a sponge, retaining alcohol in the stomach and releasing it slowly into the blood," he says.

Dann says the Auto Club is not condoning drinking by drivers, but "just realizing the fact that 80 per cent of all motorists do have a drink and drive over the holidays."

The Auto Club quotes Detroit Police chemist Jon Howington as saying that mashed potatoes, liquid diet foods, bread and milk all are good to slow the entry of alcohol into the bloodstream.

Police Leader Urges Speedup

KALAMAZOO (AP) — The leader of a Kalamazoo policemen's organization is urging a work speed up by policemen rather than a slowdown to gain public support for police demands for higher pay.

"Only through public support can we get what we're after," Detective Howard Henry said Thursday. Henry is president of Kalamazoo Lodge 98 of the Fraternal Order of Police, the bargaining agent for members of the 137-man force.

The group seeks to bring local police salaries up to those paid by the State Police.

The latest city offer of a seven per cent pay hike was termed "entirely unacceptable" by Henry.

Henry said he was opposed to any suggestion of "blue flu," or work slowdown, adding that his group urged instead a "work speedup" in an effort to gain public support for police claims to higher pay.

Patrolmen at Kalamazoo currently start at $6,000 a year and work to a maximum after 5 years of $7,600 while State Police start at $6,700 and reach a top of $9,400, Henry said, adding that the maximum for a Kalamazoo detective is $8,100 while State Police reach nearly $10,000.

Quebec Fire Fatal To Nine Children

MONT LAURIER, Que. (AP) — Fire swept the home of a couple with 18 children early today. Nine children perished while the others escaped with their parents by jumping from windows of the two-story house into a foot of snow.

Police said the fire broke out at 12:30 a.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Girouard. One of the children jumped from a bedroom window and ran to a neighbor's house to call for help.

The ages of the dead children were not immediately available. The Girouard's house was at Lac des Iles near Mont Laurier, about 125 miles northwest of Montreal.

Study Finds No Sex Revolution

NEW YORK (AP) — Scientists today presented findings from new studies of human sexual behavior, listing among general conclusions:

—There has been "no sexual revolution" strictly speaking, rather more a continuation of long existing trends.

—College coeds continue to equate their first sexual intercourse with love, whereas men continue to be opportunistic.

—There is a definite trend, especially among young women, for the first sexual intercourse to be a pleasurable event.

—Newer contraceptive devices do NOT seem to have prompted any rise in the percentage of women having intercourse before marriage.

—Use of birth control devices doesn't seem to lead to increased sexual activity so much as to increased enjoyment.

The scientists addressed session of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Survey Collegians
Dr. Paul H. Gebhard, director of the Institute for Sex Research at Indiana University founded by the late Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey, described first results from a 1967 survey among nearly 1,200 men and women, in colleges across the nation, compared with findings from similar questioning of about as many college students in the 1940's and early 1950's—a generation or nearly so ago.

So far, he said, "all this sounds like a continuation of the trend toward sexual equality with the female being regarded both by males and by herself as less a sexual object to be exploited, and more as a fellow human with her own needs, expectations, and rights."

The 1967 study was conducted under direction of Dr. William Simon of the Institute at Bloomington, Ind.

Attitudes Change Little
Compared with a generation ago, Dr. Gebhard said, "It is clear that the enormous difference between how males and females view their initial partner has changed very little. In brief, females surrender their virginity to males they love, whereas males are much less emotionally involved."

For college coeds now at their first experience, "love was involved in 70 to 90 per cent of cases"—similar to the earlier findings.

Among males, 11 to 14 per cent in the new study said they first had intercourse with girls they intended to marry. This compared with only one to five per cent—in various college years—who so reported in the earlier surveys.

Young men now rarely have their first experience with prostitutes—only two to seven per cent in the new study compared with 20 to 25 per cent previously.

Deserters Ask Sweden Refuge

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Four U.S. Navy deserters arrived today from Moscow to seek asylum in Sweden and declared they stand neutral between East and West and only want to work for peace.

Asked why they had chosen to come to Sweden instead of staying in Russia where they went after jumping ship in Japan last October, Richard D. Bailey, speaking for the group, said:

"We chose Sweden basically because it is neutral and the neutral line conforms with our views. We do not like politics and wanted to get away from ideologies East or West."

The four sailors, who said they deserted to protest the Vietnam war, arrived on a commercial flight from Moscow and were whisked away from a throng of photographers and newsmen at the airport to a nearby police precinct at Maersta.
